

KANTHAROS

$20,000 LFSN

BILL OPPENHEIM ON KANTHAROS

'Kantharos started very cheaply in Florida, but proved so good (2.80 APEX A Runner Index) they just had to bring him to Kentucky. His first Kentucky foals arrived this year. Meanwhile, his fifth Florida crop, sired off a $5,000 stud fee, ranks him 16th on the Juvenile Sire List, with 14 winners, including three BTW. At the November sales, 18 foals from his first Kentucky crop sold, averaging $81,333.'

This crop is out of so much better mares than he ever saw in Florida. If he just improves a little bit with these much better mares, he's a horse everybody in Kentucky is going to want to breed to, because he imparts two extremely desirable characteristics: precocity and speed.'
